Thursday 4/26 /2012; 5:30 pm
Conrad Prebys Music Center Experimental Theatre
The University of California San Diego

New American Music for Percussion and Voice (...etc...)

Bonnie Whiting Smith, percussion/vocals (DMA recital no. 3) with Jerome Kitzke, piano/vocals and Curt Miller, bass clarinet

Regina Ta kes The Holy Road (1994)------------------------Jerome Kitzke

* Being Pollen (2011)-------------------------------------Jeffery Treviño

    poetry: Alice Notley
    I. Introduction
    II. Conversation (Bolinas, 1971)
    III. Interlude
    IV. The Song Called "Get Away" (Buffalo, 1987)
    V. Interlude
    VI. Pollen (Philadelphia, 2006)

The Animist Child (1994)-----------------------------Jerome Kitzke

* * Things Written in the Snow no. 3 (2012) sitting alone in a frozen parking lot------Nicholas Beyoe

* * * The Green Automobile (2000)--------------------------Jerome Kitzke

    text: Allen Ginsberg

The Earth Only Endures (2003)-----------------------------Jerome Kitzke texts: the Tewa, Allen Ginsberg, Walt Whitman,

    the Lakota

#American premiere (written for BWS and Johannes Fischer)
World premiere (written for BWS)
First performance with percussion

With many thanks to: The UCSD production staff (especially Nick Patin and Jessica Flores), Steven Schick and red fish blue fish, Scott Paulson and the Geisel Library Toy Piano Collection (for the generous loan of the toy piano), and MOST of all to Jerome, Jeff, and Nick for your music!
POLLEN

the scented flowers of white thorn depending on the rains acacias you are the yellow i once and then forgot that leaf or foothill paloverde the breath, you can be my breath you can be my health little word cupshaped aiy borne on slender woody stems hibiscus you i once. came here by moth they say for i am only pollen and you are the afternoon and evening and everything for you believe in hierarchy archangelical blossom of only your wings i once but you are banished for you are a human event and in this rite i once but now prisoner of war but that was once and in this discovered a new species being pollen along the air flowering no roads no inroads no outlets no put do not put i am coming apart and scattering a gypsy
pollen
and a velvety coat of white hairs keeps the leaves from becoming too hot how gravelly it is coming apart everything good comes apart so you can not have it. this is our rite
any dead woman comes apart Sen tentia come apart like anyone you can be pollen too spring but if summer rains have been good do you have to have tought like a hierarchical archangelical ty rant rant ma it is coming apart.
but if Sumer rains have been good but if the desert dust drinks drops coheres just there then COMES APART

rule comes APART and in this rite i and in this rite i must heal for i have no PARTS oh knowing go away Oh Knowing go away Oh try ing come a part oh roads abandoned dirt COME APART gravelly southern mohave sumer love love come APART
The Green Automobile: Allen Ginsberg. If I had a Green Automobile I'd go find my old companion in his house on the Western ocean. Ha! Ha! Ha! Ha! Ha! Ha! I'd honk my horn at his manly gate, inside his wife and three children sprawl naked on the livingroom floor. He'd come running out to my car full of heroic beer and jump scr in the wheel for he is the greater driver. We'd pilgrimage to the highest mount of our earlier Rocky Mountain Visions laughing in eachothers arms, delight surpassing the highest Rockies, and after old agony, drunk with 28 years, bounding toward the snowy horizon blasting the dashboard with original hop hot rod on the mountain we'd better up the cloudy highway where angels of anxiety car - ee n through the trees and scream out the engine. We'd burn all night on the jackpine peak seen from Denver in the summer dark, forestlike unnatural radiance: illuminating the mountaintop: childhood yonetime age and eternity. would open like sweet trees in the nights of another spring and dumbfound us with love. For we can see together the beauty of souls hidden like diamonds in the clock of the world, like Chinese magicians can confound the immortals with our intellectuality hidden in the mist, in the Green Automobile which I have invented imagined and envisioned on the roads of the world. Dear than the engine on a track in the desert bums delight Greyhound and swifter than physical jetplane. Denver! Denver! We'll return roaring across the City & Country Buildinglawhich ce tones the pure emerald flame at reaming in the wok of out auto. Th is time we'll buy up the city! I cashed a great check in my skull bank to find a miraculous college of the body up on the bus terminal roof. But first we'll drive the stations of downtown, poolhall flophouse Jazz joint jail whorehouse down Folson to the darkest alleys of Larimer paying respects to Denver's father lost of the railroad tracks, stuper of wine and silence hallow inng the slum of his dea des, salute him and his saintly suitcases of dark muscatel, drink and smash the sweet bottles on Diesels in allegiance. Then we go driving drunk on boulevards where armies march and still parade staggering under the invisible banner of reality hurrying through the street in the a u to of our fate we share an arch angelic cigarette and tell eachothers' fortunes: fans of supernatural illumination bleak rainy gaps of time, great a r t learned in desolatation and we beat apart after six deada. n and on an asphalt crossroad, deal with eachother in princely gentleness once more, recalling famous dead toks of other cities. The windshields full of tears, ra in wets oft made breaks, we kneel together in the shade and the traffic of an light in paradise and now renew the solitary vow we made each other take in Texas once: I can't inscribe here...... How many nights will be made drunken by th is legend? How will young Denver come to mourn her forgotten sexual angel? How many boys will strike the black piano in imitation of the excess of a native saint? Or girls fall wanton under his spectre in the high schools of melancholy night? While all the time of eternity in the wan light of th is poem's radio we'll sit behind forgotten shades bearhending the lost jazz of all Saturdays. Neal, we'll be real heros now in a war between our cocks and time: let's be the angels of our the world's desire and take the world to bed withus before we die. Sleeping alone or with companion, girl or fairy sleep or dream, I'll fall of lacklove, you, satiety; all men fall, our fate ra fell before, but resurrecting that lost flesh is but a moment's work of mind: an ageless monument to love in the imagination: memorial built of our own bodies consumed by the invisible poem - we'll shudder in Denver and endure though blood and wrinkles blind our eyes. So, this Green Automobile: I give you in flight a present, a press ent from my imagination. We will go riding over the Rockies, we'll go on riding all night long until dawn, and then back to your railroad, the SP your house and your children and broken leg destiny you'll ride down the plains in the morning; and back to my visions, my office and eastern apartment I'll return to New York.

--NY, 1953
RECONCILIATION

WORD over all, beautiful as the sky,
Beautiful that war and all its deeds of carnage must in time be utterly lost,
That the hands of the sisters Death and Night incessantly softly wash again, and ever again, this soil'd world;
For my enemy is dead, a man divine as myself is dead,
I look where he lies white-faced and still in the coffin—Idna near,
Bend down and touch lightly with my lips the white face in the coffin.

-Walt Whitman